French Say 1,000 Red Troops Killed In Indochina Fight

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—French Union forces broke out of their besieged fortress of Dien Bien Phu late yesterday and the high command said they killed 1,000 men of the Communist-led Vietminh in a counterattack outside the fortress' fringes.

French army headquarters announced French tanks, artillery and infantry, under the fortress commander, Col. Christian de Castries, killed all Vietminh entrenched in two villages about two miles from the western line of the dusty plain's defenses.

First Counterattack

It was the first major French counterattack since the Vietminh launched their great mass assault on the key northwest Indochina outpost March 13.

During three days of wave-on-wave infantry charges, the withering French fire killed an estimated 3,000 and wounded another 9,000.

The Vietminh pulled back to regroup, presumably for more mass assaults. Since then they have kept up artillery bombardments from the hills surrounding the plain, while French artillery and aircraft harassed the rebels in reply.

French Losses Light

The French command said in the attack yesterday their own forces had only "light losses" of about 20 killed, and had killed "every Vietminh soldier" found in the villages of Ban Ong Pet and Ban Ban.

They claimed they had smashed a long string of Vietminh antiaircraft batteries which for two weeks had been firing on the red cross-marked hospital planes with which the surrounded French had tried to bring their wounded out of Dien Bien Phu.

Violent Quake Recorded

PRATO, Italy (AP)—An earthquake so violent it put the Prato observatory's seismograph out of service was recorded here today.

The same tremor, at about 1:20 a.m. EST, was reported from seismology stations in Florence, in Ireland and in England. Officials here said the shock appeared to center in eastern Greece or Turkey.

House Debates Open Today on Public Building

Fight Could Develop Over Different Plans By Ike and Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House faced a decision on whether to follow the recommendations of President Eisenhower or its Appropriations Committee on the public housing issue as leaders scheduled for debate today a bill carrying funds for the program.

The President has asked Congress for a four-year program aimed at building 140,000 low-rent public housing units. The Appropriations Committee recommended last week that the program be ended in two years with the construction of only 35,000 more units.

New Message Possible

There was some speculation that Eisenhower might send a new expression of his views to Congress.

The House follows recommendations of its Appropriations Committee more often than not, but some Democrats were planning a stiff fight on the housing issue.

They were promised help today from Rep. Javiets (R-Lib-NY), who said in a statement today that the committee action "must be protested and at least the 35,000 public housing units requested . . . must be restored." He added:

"I shall fight for this in every way I can. It is essential in order to redeem the President's program of which housing is a vital part."

Part of Omnibus Bill

Slum clearance and urban redevelopment for big cities is "a practical impossibility without a component of public housing," he said, and federal public housing is essential if any appreciable municipal or state-aided housing is to be expected.

The housing funds are contained in a 5½-billion-dollar appropriations bill carrying money for a score of independent agencies, the

Senator Blasts Plan for Lower Farm Supports

Young Says Present Parity Price Should Be Set at Rigid Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Young (R-ND) predicted today that "there won't be a single Republican or Democrat elected to Congress from the Midwest next November who stands for flexible farm price supports."

Young, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said in an interview if Republicans want to sell a farm program to the voters, they had better get behind his proposal to retain rigid price supports on major field crops at 90 per cent of parity.

President Eisenhower has advocated flexible supports ranging from 75 to 90 per cent but Young said he is convinced that the farmers themselves don't want such a program.

If what he believes is true, the North Dakota senator said, he would have to take issue with Midwestern Republican leaders who came to the conclusion at a meeting in Omaha, Neb., that "if we can get out the farm vote we will win the congressional elections."

"The congressional elections are

1,500 British Taken From Burning Ship

Mediterranean Mass Rescue Follows Blast, Fire Aboard Transport

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — Fifteen hundred Britons were safe ashore here today after being whisked from a burning troop ship in one of the greatest sea rescues of history. Four crewmen were the only fatalities.

The survivors—among them 277 women and children and 17 invalid soldiers—calmly and quickly abandoned the fiercely blazing British transport Empire Windrush 20 miles offshore in the Mediterranean early yesterday. The flaming hulk of the 14,651-ton vessel was left adrift, a total loss.

Four rescue ships that sped to the scene and plucked the survivors from the sea and from lifeboats brought them to Algiers yesterday. They found shelter last night with private families and at military bases.

4 Killed by Blast

Three men and one officer were killed in the engineroom explosion that rocked the vessel and set it ablaze.

The cause of the blast remained a mystery. Some Algerian newspapers quoted the Empire Windrush's skipper, Capt. W. Wilson, as saying, "The possibility of sabotage was not excluded." This remark could not be directly confirmed, however.

Speculation on a possible bombing arose because the ship had just come through the Suez Canal, where Egyptian-British tension is high. The big blue and white troop carrier was homeward bound from Kure, Japan, to Southampton, England. She had stopped at Hong Kong, Singapore, Colambo, Aden and Port Said.

Aboard were about 250 crewmen and 1,268 passengers — soldiers, sailors and airmen, with 277 women and children dependents. Seventeen hospitalized soldiers were among those saved without mishap.

Bringing Survivors Home

A British aircraft carrier and two destroyers sailed toward Algiers today to bring the survivors home to England.

Capt. Wilson said that moments after the blast on the Empire Windrush, flames spread out of control, and choking, acrid smoke billowed through the ship. It was then, he said, that he passed the order for all hands to abandon ship.

Four ships—the Dutch freighter Mentor, the British cargo vessel Socotra, the Italian tanker Taigete and the Norwegian freighter Hemsefjell—converged quickly on the spot. Within two hours they had picked up all the survivors.

Jewelry Case Located Empty Near Richwood

One of the two sample cases which contained $30,000 worth of diamonds stolen from the Dunlap Jewelry Store, Bucyrus, last week was recovered between Prospect and Richwood over the weekend.

The two cases were taken from the Bucyrus jewelry shop Thursday afternoon while the proprietor, Harry Dunlap, turned his back to repair a watch band for a customer. Bucyrus police surmised that the cases, which had been left behind the counter by a New York diamond salesman, were snatched and taken outside to a car. The customer, who was the only person in the shop, with the exception of Dunlap, paid for the repair and left. When the New York salesman returned to the store for the cases, they were gone.

The one case and empty trays from the cases were found by different residents of the Richwood and Prospect area and were turned over to the Marion and Union County sheriffs. The vicinity in which the case and trays were found is bordered by the Marion, Union and Delaware County lines.

Further investigation will be made by the Bucyrus police department.

325 Attend Club's State Meeting Here

Annual Conference Of Exchangites Held at 'Y'

The national president of the Exchange Club, speaking at the annual spring conference of clubs in Ohio held in the Marion YMCA yesterday, said improvement in four areas will aid Exchange Clubs as a community force — faith, ideals, work and fellowship.

J. Benjamin Brick of Atlantic City, N.J., called for an increase in faith and for retention of ideals. Exchange ideals — unity, service and brotherhood — need to be carried out in daily life, he said.

SPEAKING AT the 13th annual spring conference and first to be held in Marion, Brick called for increased work in the club's aviation and crime prevention programs. He pointed out that fun and fellowship should go along with work.

"Never have I seen such enthusiasm and fellowship as shown here today," he said. "With more meetings like this, Exchange in Ohio is going to grow by leaps and bounds."

APPROXIMATELY 40 of the 59 Exchange Clubs in Ohio were represented at the conference. About 325 members, wives and guests attended the dinner.

Prof. Edward Wright, head of the theater arts department at Denison University, and the Harding High School Choir entertained the group. Wright gave character sketches of American life, including his own creation, Elmer Warts, champion hog caller of Indiana.

Under the direction of L. G. Jones, the 74-voice choir sang: "The Lord is a Mighty God;" "Jesus Lover of My Soul," "Could Ye Not Watch With Me," "My God and I," "Windy Weather," "The Bells of Aberdovey," and "Clementine."

National and state officers attended the conference, including Harold Harter, secretary; George Conelly, state president; Arnold Lundberg, state vice president; Ralph Foster, state secretary-treasurer. D. J. Sansotta was general chairman of the conference.

Conelly presided at the noonday banquet. Rev. W. L. Stafford, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church, gave the invocation. A welcome was given by Fred Schultz, Marion club president, and Harter also spoke.

DINNER MUSIC was furnished by the Polka Dots and Dominoes, under the direction of Mrs. John Salisbury. The Polka Dots included Ronald and Carl Breece and Jimmy Beverly while the Dominoes were Margaret Ann Romine, Larry and Phillip Walters.

Dock Workers Protest Against Federal Actions

White House Picketed As Longshoremen Say Election Should Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Longshoremen estimated by police to number around 1,000 picketed the White House today in protest against the government's handling of the bitter dock strike that has tied up the Port of New York.

Metropolitan police said about 1,200 to 1,400 of the men had come into the capital by bus and other means, mainly from New York but with their ranks swelled by contingents picked up on the way. They expected more.

Plans announced by the dock workers as they left New York had also included picketing operations at the National Labor Relations Board which begins consideration tomorrow of an NLRB examiner's recommendations in the dock labor dispute.

The men represent the old International Longshoremen's Assn. which apparently won a board-supervised election just before Christmas for the right to represent the dock workers. A board examiner recommended the election be voided, on the ground the ILA was responsible for violence and intimidation which he said prevented a fair test at the polls.

Mrs. Luce Denies Report She Blasted Italy in Talk

ROME (AP) — U. S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce has fired back a flat denial to a magazine report that she criticized Italy's government in a speech to Washington newsmen. After publication of the report, 35 far leftist senators demanded that she be ousted from the country.

Her statement, terming the account of the purported speech a "fabrication pure and 'simple,' was issued coincidentally with a report from Washington that she had urgently requested President Eisenhower to send Vice President Nixon on a brief goodwill tour of Italy to combat Communist propaganda.

Mrs. Luce, in Paris to confer with U. S. and NATO officials, declined to comment on this report. It said she had recommended the Nixon trip when she visited Washington in January but that Eisenhower had not decided whether he could spare Nixon from his duties in Washington.

The independent weekly "L'Europeo" had claimed last week that Mrs. Luce in a speech to a group of correspondents in Washington Jan. 5 told them she had urged Italian leaders to crack down harder on communism. The article also quoted her as saying she had warned ex-Premier Alcide de Gasperi that further Italian delays in ratifying the European army (EDC) treaty would result in a "big cut in the figures of American aid."

Mrs. Luce in her statement, dictated by telephone from Fontainebleau, said her remarks to the Washington newsmen were "simply friendly conversation over a dinner table" and "naturally, the talk turned on Italy."

"But some of the topics cited in this misleading article did not come up at all in the conversation; and those that did were discussed from a point of view entirely different from that suggested by the article," she declared.

10,000 To Be Employed on Turnpike Jobs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Turnpike will mean jobs for more than 10,000 persons this summer, a turnpike spokesman estimated today.

Construction is scheduled to swing into high gear the last of April, when contractors will begin working two shifts of men along the 241-mile super road in northern Ohio.

Construction contractors alone will employ from 10,000 to 12,000 workers and hundreds of other persons will be driving trucks and supplying the contractors with materials.

The huge project will take up some of the slack — but perhaps not much—in employment in northern Ohio communities that have been hard hit by declining steel mill production.

The commission expects to spend 137 million dollars this year on road constrution and building structures along the turnpike. The first 22 mile section will be open to traffic before the year ends. Next year about 85 million dollars will be spent completing the turnpike.

T. J. Kauer, chief engineer of the turnpike commission, estimated the labor bill for building the turnpike will amount to 200 million dollars. Of this 115 million dollars will be in wages to persons working on the pike itself and 85 million to workers in related fields. They are employes of mines and quarries and mills making materials needed to build the pike.

After the turnpike opens to traffic, hundreds of persons will get permanent jobs. The commission itself will employ from 500 to 600 persons, and several hundred others will work in restaurants and filling stations along the turnpike.

Dulles To Speak Tonight on U.S. Policies in Asia

Secretary of State Expected To Outline Stand in Tough Terms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. government's position on keeping Indochina out of Communist hands and holding the door against seating of Red China in the United Nations is up for restatement tonight, reportedly in tough terms.

The spokesman is Secretary of State Dulles. He will talk to the Overseas Press Club in New York, and to the nation by ABC radio and Du Mont television.

The broadcast is scheduled for 9 p.m., EST.

The administration has been focussing emphasis on this speech, which Dulles and President Eisenhower went over together in a long White House conference. A whole series of declarations within the past few days, from administration sources and others, has led up to it.

The United States is interested in maintaining stiff resistance against any deals on Indochina with which the Reds might try to tempt the French, some of whom are visibly wearying of the seven-year war. The Reds would be in position to spring such offers at the April 26 Far East conference in Geneva to be attended by representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, Russia and Red China.

Another apparent U.S. objective is to take the question of recognition of Red China out of the conference bargaining by making this

Anti-Naguib Agitators Die In Cairo Fight

Demonstrators Fight Way Into High Court, Attack Chief Justice

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — The army rushed tanks and steel helmeted troops into Cairo today to preserve order after two demonstrators were reported killed by Egypt's chief justice.

The outbreak came while President Mohamed Naguib, who collapsed and then recovered this morning, engaged in a crucial day-long meeting with Cabinet members and his opponents on Egypt's ruling Revolution Council.

Tanks and troops took up guard stations at strategic squares in Cairo and around the American and British embassies by order of Maj. Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer, army commander in chief and member of the council.

The Army moved in after several hundred anti-Naguib demonstrators smashed their way into the guard room of the State Council (supreme court) and attacked Abdel Razzak Sanhouri, chairman of the State Council and Egypt's top judge.

An army officer emerged from Naguib's house later and told newsmen Sanhouri fired with a revolver into the attacking crowd, killing two and wounding two others. Other reports said only two were wounded and no one killed.

Naguib collapsed unconscious today at Almaza military airport, but aides announced three hours later he was "weak but recovering."

The 53-year-old front man for Egypt's military revolution against ex-King Farouk's regime had gone to the airport to say goodby to King Saud of Saudi Arabia, who has been paying a state visit to Egypt.

Subzero Cold, Snow Delaying Spring in West

By The Associated Press

A vast tide of arctic air spread eastward and southward today, rolling back spring in northern United States after dumping heavy snowfall and subzero temperatures on Montana Sunday.

The concentrated chill plummeted Montana temperatures Sunday to 19 degrees below zero at Cut Bank, to season records of -7 at Great Falls and 2 above at Helena.

Born of and enveloped in the belated great wave of winter were such snowfalls as 10 inches at Billings, 7 at Lewstown, 6 at Great Falls, and 4 at Cut Bank, Broadus Helena and Miles City—all in Montana; lesser falls across the northern Great Plains into the Great Lakes region, and such spectacular temperature changes as southwestern Kansas' 15-degree drop in 15 minutes—from 76 to 61.

Kicked up at its leading edge, where the cold wave collided with warm currents from the Gulf of Mexico, were a towering 7,000-foot-high duststorm in southwestern Kansas and southeastern Colorado; a small tornado that struck Anderson, Ind.; thundershowers with some hail in the Ohio Valley, and scattered showers through eastern Nebraska, Iowa and northern Missouri.

By early today, the cold air mass extended from the southern shores of Lakes Ontario and Erie southwestward to central Oklahoma, then northwestward through Wyoming and southwestward to the Pacific Coast.

Light snow or flurries were reported in a band running eastward from Wyoming to the southeast shores of Lake Superior. There was also light snow in Maine, and between the snow areas there were rain showers.

Ohio Has Second Tornado Warning

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For the second time in a week Ohioans had a tornado scare yesterday. And for the second time the big winds failed to materialize.

How Much Test Data Should Be Revealed?

Secrecy on H-Bomb Presents Problems

By ELTON C FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is tangled in the problem of keeping its military secrets while at the same time letting Russia learn enough about American armaments to deter her from using war

This perplexity is involved in part in the current dispute over how much should be revealed officially about the thermonuclear bomb tests

But [illegible] Soviet [illegible] decide they [illegible] the deterrent value may be weakened although it is possible they still might be reluctant to undertake a punishing war

In 1946 when there still lingered some touches of the old wartime spirit of alliance and the deterrent policy was unplanned the United States invited Russian observers to its Bikini atomic bomb tests They have seen no American tests since except possibly through a periscope

But in recent months as American atomic power has expanded by leaps and bounds there have been suggestions that it might be well for foreign observers to have a refresher course to [illegible] everyone friends and [illegible] enemies that here indeed is a deterrent

Russia may [illegible] because the U S [illegible] now feels compelled to tell its own citizens for civil defense purposes what to expect in an H-bomb explosion The decision has been made to show an edited version of a motion picture of the 1952 H-bomb shot at Eniwetok [illegible] ounces that might [illegible] able to [illegible] out

There were thunderstorms and heavy winds over much of the state but a small tornado which hit Anderson Ind never reached Ohio The Columbus Weather Bureau thought it might and issued a warning of severe storms

For a while it appeared a twister might hit somewhere along a line marked by Dayton Columbus Zanesville and Wheeling W Va

Local storms caused high damage in Columbus a gust of 84 m p h was recorded at the Naval Air Station

The Weather Bureau mindful the tornado season will be reaching its peak and remembering the more than 20 persons killed by twisters in Ohio last summer issued this list of life-saving hints

For open country—

If you see a tornado coming move at right angles to its path If you're in a car chances are you can outrace it

If there's no time to escape lie flat in the lowest spot you can find

If you're on a river bluff [illegible] side of the hill facing the [illegible] is safest

For cities or towns—

Seek shelter inside preferably in a structural steel building Stay away from windows

The southwest corner of the basement is the safest place in a house

If time permits shut off electricity and fuel

Open windows on north and east sides of the house to equalize air pressure It helps to keep the house from being blown away

Gas Co. Plans New Line

ON THEIR WAY are part of the 77 carloads of pipe being shipped from Lorain to Derby, O., and eventual construction into an Ohio Fuel Gas Co. pipeline designed to move fuel across the central part of Ohio.

C. L. Baxter, manager of the Marion office of the firm, said the pipe—here photographed on a bridge south of Columbus—is part of a half-million dollar pipeline project.

When placed end-to-end and welded, the pipe will reach 14 miles and tie into 25-mile and 26-mile sections already completed to form a "loop" line from Sugar Grove near Lancaster to Howell Junction near Dayton. A "loop" line is one running parallel to another gas line.

When completed, the line will permit more out-of-state gas to be sent to Sugar Grove for underground storage, where it will be avaliable to the entire Ohio Fuel gas system

Earl J. Andrews

According to a recent article in Business Week, "The odds run at about 100 to 1 against your ever being successfully sued for liability as a result of injuring another person or damaging his property, excluding auto. That very fact can lull you into a false sense of security."

The national magazine advised the purchase of liability insurance on your property and activities. For, as the article pointed out, you just have to be hit with ONE judgment to saddle you with a huge deficit unless you are protected by liability insurance.

"Your not knowing about the hazard that caused injury is no defense," the article said. If such a hazard exists on your property, you may have to pay heavily. Your liability is greatest to business visitors including mailmen, doctors, and delivery boys, but extends even to guests or passers-by.

Just how hard can you get hit by such a lawsuit? The article says, "In some cases, settlements have run to at least three times the value of the guilty party's property."

The logical solution is proper protection. Fortunately, a low cost liability policy is available which will pay for such damages. Also, it will pay for medical treatment for those injured, regardless of your liability.

Why not investigate? Just phone 2-3127.

Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Members In District Meet at Marion 'Y'

One-hundred and one youths from Marion and other communities in this area gathered at the YMCA yesterday for a district Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y conference.

Answers to questions raised by Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y members in discussion sessions held earlier in the afternoon were answered in a talk following dinner last night by Dr. Russell Bayliff, head of the sociology department at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Topics Discussed

Topics discussed in the five sessions included "The Driving Problem," led by Juvenile Judge Edward Ruzzo; "Civic Responsibility," Ned Hoover of Bucyrus; "Respect for Authority," K. A. Oakes of Mount Gilead; "Leisure Times," Rev. Paul C. Walter of Galion; and "The Church and My Responsibility," Murray DeWald of Crestline.

Anna Fairchild, president of the district Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y Clubs, presided over the opening assembly following registration early Sunday afternoon. Allan Hackman of Bucyrus, district chaplain, led devotions.

Split Into Groups

After the opening, youths split into groups to discuss the various topics covered under the conference theme, "Can Youth Accept Responsibility."

Youths from Marion, Bucyrus Crestline, Upper Sandusky, Mount Gilead, Galion and Mansfield enjoyed swimming and other recreational activities prior to the dinner.

David Jones of Kenton, Northwest Ohio associate executive secretary of the YMCA, was in charge of the conference.

The Marion Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y Clubs were hosts for the conference, with the following advisors, Mrs. Colleen Burns, Miss Ruth Turner, Mrs. Hazel Strubel, Rev. Harrison Ludwig, William Cover and Paul O'Rourke, in charge of conference arrangements.

Farmer Seeking Owner For Pair of Milk Cans

A new twist to the "missing article" report made frequently to the Marion County sheriff's office was given Sunday by Harry Smith of S. Vine St.

He called to report to deputies that he found two milk cans, which did not belong to him, in a building on his property on the Hillman-Ford Road. The cans were empty, he added.

Regalado Poses Problem in Tribe's Training Camp

Erratic Fielding Only Block To Berth With First Team

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

Dilemmas—those things that chop years off the life of a major league manager—are nothing new to Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians. He's had a king-sized one since he took over the Tribe and has been trying to beat out the New York Yankees for the American League pennant

But now he has a brand new one: what to do with Rudy Regalado.

This 23-year-old rookie infielder has shown no respect for opposing pitchers since the start of spring training. At the moment he has clubbed nine home runs and is batting a cool .481 with 25 hits in 52 tries during the exhibition season.

This sort of slugging would be enough to light the eyes of any manager. So Lopez' eyes lit.

But. . . .

The kid can't field, or, at least it sure looks like he can't. He's a third baseman by trade, but there's no use battling Al Rosen for the position, so Lopez thought perhaps he'd go well at second base.

The Indians dropped another one to the New York Giants yesterday, 10-4. Rudy slugged two home runs and a pair of singles, but he also made two errors, one at second and one at third.

So Lopez must decide whether Rudy will bat in or let in more runs. He also is supposed to be able to get around at first base. That might provide the answer since first basemen are not paid to be acrobats.

Meanwhile, ancient Vic Raschi is warming the cockles of St. Louis Cardinal Manager Eddy Stanky's heart. He went five innings against his old mates and gave up five hits yesterday. The Cards won the ball game 4-2.

The 35-year-old right-hander, who was dealt to the Redbirds last month, has worked 21 innings for the Cards and has given up 16 hits and only five earned runs

It was a strange feeling for Raschi to throw against his old mates and he admitted it.

"I was worried stiff I might hit one of them," he said. "I was very careful about not throwing too close to them. I guess they felt the same way about batting against me. There was no jockeying at all. I probably could have gone another inning, but I felt tired. I'm sure I can go the full nine innings the next time I pitch."

The amazing Baltimore Orioles continued to wield big bats. They clubbed the Chicago Cubs 19-14 with Don Lenhardt hitting three home runs and driving in seven runs.

Ferris Fains, the two-time American League batting king, collected two doubles and a single in the Chicago White Sox' 10-5 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Boston Red Sox turned back the Detroit Tigers 2-1 in 11 innings. Karl Olson hit a single off Dick Donovan to drive in the winning run.

The Philadelphia Phillies beat the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-4 on the wings of Earl Torgerson's two-run homer, and the Philadelphia Athletics edged the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1 when starting pitcher Alex Kellner took matters into his own hands and hit a two-run double for the winners.

The two major league clubs that got into action against their farmhands suffered disaster. The Atlanta Crackers dealt the Milwaukee Braves a 2-1 defeat and the Chattanooga Lookouts whipped the Washington Senators 4-3.

The Braves suffered another injury when catcher Sam Calderone jammed a finger in his throwing hand trying for a wild pitch by Warren Spahn.

The Phillies finally obtained their long-sought infield strength when they bought Bobby Morgan from Brooklyn for a reported $60,000 and second baseman Dick Young. Morgan will fill in for Ted Kazanski, who is due to be called into the service.

Eye AAU Meet

Ohio State Mermen Nail Championship of NCAA

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Mike Peppe, whose Ohio State University swimmers have won more titles than he can count, today proudly proclaimed his present band "The best team I've ever coached."

The veteran mentor, who directed the American divers at the last Olympics, was particularly impressed with the two records set by Ford Konno, the little Buckeye by way of Honolulu, as state won the NCAA team title. Konno shattered records both in the 440-yard and 1,500-meter freestyle events.

"I expected him to break both records," said Peppe, whose Buckeye teams won all three of the nation's meets in 1943-46-47. "Furthermore, I had no doubts we were going to win. We'd beaten Michigan in a dual meet."

His youngsters lived up to expectations. They won the meet with 94 points, while Michigan could do no better than second with 67. Ohio State counted nine individual crowns with Konno's two records among their loot. And they'll be favored to pick up still more laurels in the National AAU championships opening at New Haven Thursday.

Mohawks Hold Lead in Playoff

Cincinnati's Mohawks held a 2-1 advantage in their best four-of-seven-game series with Johnstown for the Turner Cup after blanking the Jets 1-0 in overtime Sunday.

It marked ace goalie Charlie Hodge's second whitewash job in the International Hockey League playoffs.

The pennant winning Mohawks, who disposed of Marion in five games recently, lost to Johnstown 3-2 Saturday night when the Jets tied the series at a game apiece. Bun Smith scored the winning goal at the midway mark of the overtime session.

Cincinnati downed Johnstown 3-0 behind Hodge in the series opener last Thursday night.

Gavilan Bid At Title Top TV Feature

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan and middleweight ruler Carl (Bobo) Olson meet Friday for Olson's crown in an outstanding bout that tops one of the greatest weekly boxing programs in years.

Leading contenders are a dime a dozen on the International card In addition to Olson and Gavilan, here are some of the other luminaries of the game who will throw leather this week:

Featherweight champion Sandy Saddler, heavyweight contenders Dan Bucceroni, Roland LaStarza, Don Cockell and Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, Randy Turpin, Del Flanagan, Yolande Pompey, Floyd Patterson, Percy Bassett, Georgie Araujo, Art Persley and Armand Savoie, among others.

Olson and Gavilan collide in the Chicago Stadium, which is scaled to handle 19,400 customers and $360,000. The 15-round title bout will be broadcast (ABC) and telecast (NBC coast to coast. Chicago and a 100-mile area around the Windy City will be blacked out of the telecast.

The bulding, 26-year-old Olson, winner of 12 straight over two years, will be risking his crown for the first time since he won it Turpin in October. The busy-punching Bobo is a 9-5 choice to whip the 26-year-old Cuban Flash.

Bucceroni, third-ranking heavyweight challenger, is risking a possible September title fight in taking on Jackson, a nonstop puncher with a concrete chin, at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena tonight.

LaStarza, No. 4 heavyweight contender from New York, and Cockell, the No. 5 challenger from England, collide in a 10-rounder in London tomorrow night. On the same card, Turpin meets Sweden's Olle Bengtsson, and Pompey, of Trinidad, takes on Italy's Ivano Fontana.

Wednesday night's TV fight matches lightweight contenders Persley, Red Cross, La., and Savoie, Montreal, in a ten at the St.Louis arena.

The Saturday night TV headliner, sends Bassett, No 1 featherweight contender, against Cisco (The Kid) Andrade, undefeated Los Angeles lightweight, in Washington.

Saddler, warming up for a possible title defense in the next few months, meets Augie Salaar of San Francisco at Boston Thursday night in a nontitle ten.

Other matches featuring "name" fighters include: Monday—St.Paul, welters Flanagan vs Billy Pinkus; Milwaukee—Ernie Durando vs Ted Olla.

Tuesday—Washington, Paterson vs. Sammy Brown; Thursday—Providence, Araujo vs. Jacques Julien; Cincinnati—Bill Bossio vs. Eddie Burgin.

Redlegs Break Camp, Start on Northern Trek

TAMPA, Fla (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds break camp today and start a long trek toward home after a game with the world champion New York Yankees

The Reds play an eight-game series with Washington starting tomorrow at Orlando, meet Chattanooga at Knoxville and then tangle with Detroit four times before opening day.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts hopes to give the Cincinnati fans a better record than the present 11-10 Grapefruit League standings.

The latest defeat was a 6-4 setback yesterday at the hands of the Philadelphia Phillies at Clearwater.

The Redlegs yesterday optioned Jim Melton, righthanded pitcher, to Havana of the International League, and Jackie Simpson, 18-year-old shortstop, to Colonial Heights of the Class B Piedmont League. The Red roster stands now at 41 players.

Triple Main Event Carded at Armory

Promoter Les Fishbaugh has billed his Thursday night wrestling program as a triple main event card. Three full-length bouts have been scheduled.

The Bowery Boys will tangle with Ricky Waldo and the Black Panther in a tag team event with Bull Montana and Tarzan Zimba meeting in the other men's match.

Belle Drummond and Mars Bennett also have been signed to meet in a 60-minute event. The first match is scheduled for 8 30.

Lakers Battle Syracuse for Pro Cage Title

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Minneapolis Lakers, invariably at their peak in pursuit of the playoff dollar, match their unruffled veterans against battered Syracuse this week in the start of pro basketball's world series

The stake is the National Basketball Association championship and the $7 500 that goes to the winner. The teams play here Wednesday night and Saturday afternoon, the second game before a national television audience, before shifting to Syracuse in the best of seven series

Five times a league champion in six years of competition, Minneapolis advanced into the league playoff yesterday by scoring 8 points in the last minute to beat Rochester, 82-72. The victory gave the Lakers a 2-1 edge in the Western Division's best of three playdown.

Syracuse won the Eastern Division championship

Phils Happy Over Added Infield Help

CLEARWATER, Fla (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies are a much happier ball club today after acquiring infielder Bobby Morgan from the Brooklyn Dodgers for second baseman Dick Young and a reported $60 000.

They feel that at last they've found at least one friend in the National League

Their Connie Mack Stadium landlords, the Athletics, also completed a deal yesterday, sending catcher Ray Murray to the Baltimore Orioles for an undisclosed amount of cash

Several days ago an unnamed Phillies' spokesman remarked rather petulantly to a Philadelphia newspaperman that nobody in baseball would have anything to do with the club

This came after club President Bob Carpenter had tried unsuccessfully to close several deals during the winter

In Dodgers' General Manager Buzzy Bavasi he at last found a sympathetic ear. Even there, according to reports, Carpenter almost missed the boat. Bavasi reportedly had tried Saturday to deal Morgan off to the Cubs. In return he demanded outfielder Frankie Baumholtz. Chicago said no.

The Phillies have been after infield strength for some time. In Morgan the Phillies have a 27-year-old who has played all infield positions in three years with Brooklyn.

Toski Cops Azalea 15 Strokes Under

WILMINGTON N.C. (AP)—What a difference a year makes. Last spring Bobby Toski finished far back in the pack in the $10,000 Azalea Open Golf Tournament. His 291 was good for a tie for 26th place

Today he was $2,000 richer after leading the field by three shots with a 15-under-par score of 273.

His 70-71 finish followed earlier rounds of 67 and 65 over the 6 652-yard Cape Fear Country Club course

In second place after a breathtaking closing surge of 67-67 was 40-year-old George Fazio, Pine Valley, N.J. He pocketed $1,400

The victories marked the fourth major tournament success in seven months for the 5-8, 127-pounder from Massachusetts who now plays out of Livingston, N.J., where his brother Ben is a professional.

Hamilton Returns Class A Title to Southwest Section

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio's high school basketball championship pennant moved 531 miles last weekend—from Butler County to Cleveland for the annual tournament and then back in the custody of Hamilton, just 13 miles from where it started

Middletown, the 1953 champ, lost out in a district tourney but Hamilton's Big Blue team returned the trophy safely to the southwestern county by trimming Columbus South, 66-56, in the Class A finals Saturday night at Cleveland Arena

New Lexington St. Aloysius edged Delphos St John, 65-63, in the Class B tournament's first all-parochial finals.

Alex (Boo) Ellis, the 6-5 Hamilton center, and Mike Allen, a 6-8 center for St Aloysius set new scoring records in each division

Ellis, voted the most valuable player in the 32nd tourney, shot 27 points in the final game and had a 2-game total of 56. His 27 in the final bettered the championship tilt mark of 25 set by Charles Ellis of Steubenville in 1952 and his 56-point total topped the mark of 38 set by Rollie Harris of Columbus East in 1951.

Allen shot 43 tallies in the semifinals and had a 2-game total of 78, both bettering records set last year by Mariemont's Jerry Weber.

To watch the 4-session, 6 game finals, a record total of 45,001 persons turned out, beating the old mark of 38,125 set last year at Cincinnati There were 11,758 on hand for the last night

It was the seventh time in the last 11 years that either Middletown or Hamilton has won the championship

Hamilton trailed by 6 points at the first quarter, led by a single point at the half and was tied at 49-all going into the final period Then, with Hamilton leading by a scant 3 points, South's big Frank Howard fouled out The loss of the husky 6-5 center and 2 other tall men—Clarence Pointer and Stanley Owens—took the "sizing" out of the spunky Columbus squad and Hamilton moved into its biggest lead as the game ended

Each team got 21 field goals, but Hamilton connected on 24 of 33 free throws while Columbus South got only 14 of 28

Coach Warren (Porky) Scheller, who played on Hamilton's 1937 championship club and coached the Big Blue's 1949 champs, said this was his best team and Ellis was the best man he ever coached

"We won a little easier than I thought we would," he noted

St. Aloysius, which has only 28 boy students, had Allen and he "made the difference." Coach [illegible] Fowle said. Delphos St John's [illegible] a better all around team," the St Aloysius coach said.

Champs Given Warm Greeting By Home Fans

By The Associated Press

Two groups of youngsters returned to their southern Ohio communities last night for the welcome of their lives.

The basketball teams of Hamilton and New Lexington St. Aloysius high schools were the pride of their home towns—Hamilton for winning the Class A championship and New Lexington for taking the Class B title in Cleveland Saturday.

And the folks back home let them know they were proud, by cheers, sirens, hand clapping and band music.

Hamilton won its title by defeating Columbus South 66-56. New Lexington earned its crown by turning back Delphos St. Johns 65-63.

For the 4 800 residents of New Lexington in Perry County, southwest of Zanesville, it was the first basketball championship. Their trophy caused a problem. It's too big for the newly built high school trophy case.

It was the third Class A title for Hamilton but the 35 000 fans who turned out to welcome the team were anything but blase about the championship.

Mixed Leagues Popular With Bowlers in Marion

Four in Operation; Lack Of Time Prevents Adding Others

By GARY SAMS

Mixed bowling leagues — where wives bowl with their husbands — are a big success in Marion.

At least that's what John Kayatin and Jerry Stephenson, managers at the Marion Recreation and Palace Recreation Centers report.

Two are in operation at each alley and the only reason more haven't developed is the lack of time available at the two local alleys.

The most popular mixed leagues here are the Mom and Pop and Mr. and Mrs. Leagues.

—:—

TYPICAL OF COUPLES bowling in mixed leagues are Lois and Paul Eshman, Evelyn and Howard Bailey and Joanne and Floyd Decker, who participate in the Mom & Pop League. All are among the top and most experienced bowlers in Marion.

There is a demand for more mixed leagues at the alleys but both managers explain that the available time is not suitable to the bowlers.

Both alleys are filled during the week and only Sunday afternoon and evening is open for new leagues, Kayatin and Stephenson say.

The managers say they would welcome the organization of new mixed bowling leagues at the alleys for bowling on Sundays.

Marion women keglers have hit several 200 games and 500 series this year.

Emily Stephenson is one of the top bowlers in the Palace Mixed Doubles League with a 206-531 performance this year.

Mary Prior has the top scores in the Marion Engineer Depot Mixed League. She has hit 210-545 this year.

—:—

AMONG THE BEST keglers in the Mom and Pop League is Rosemary Seiter who has hit 198-504 this year.

In the Mr. and Mrs. League, Mary Brown, Vi Avery, Virginia Keck, Mickey Carpenter and Betty Collins are among the top bowlers. Collins hit 177-476 in the league the past year while Brown has hit a 193 game, Carpenter a 450 series, Keck a 450 series and Avery 182-452.

A variety of reasons is given by the two men for the mixed league's popularity.

First, the league affords the man and wife an opportunity to bowl together in competition against other couples. Secondly, the man and wife seem to be more at home when bowling together.

While there is no "kick" to throwing the ball down the alley and practicing, the leagues serve as practice for the keglers bowling in other leagues and takes the place of open bowling. The managers point out there seems to be keen competition in the mixed leagues between the wife and husband, with the result that both bowl better in mixed leagues.

—:—

THE ACTUAL COMPETITION in the mixed leagues helps bowlers along to higher bowling in other leagues. Both Kayatin and Stephenson report the scores in the mixed leagues are higher this year.

While the man and wife sometimes like to bowl together, a mixed league usually is a beginner's league. After bowling there, some of the keglers go on to other league bowling.

Currently in operation at Marion Recreation is the Mr. & Mrs. League on Sunday and the Mom & Pop League on Wednesday. The Palace Recreation has the Palace Mixed Doubles League on Sunday and the Marion Engineer Depot League on Thursday.

LOWER: Joanne and Floyd Decker, members of a team in the same league, are shown in action. Mrs. Decker is rolling the ball toward the pins while her husband applies body English. The Deckers reside at 242 N. State St. All of the bowlers in the above pictures are among the top ones in the league.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

SHORT

Disappointed Columbus basketball fans, who made the trip to Cleveland to see the South Bulldogs tangle with Hamilton for the state title Saturday night, began streaming from the Arena with more than half of the last period remaining.

The Columbus entry had raced to a 21-15 edge at the quarter mark but dropped behind 34-33 at the half. It refused to give up and battled the Big Blue on even terms to knot the score at 49-all at the start of the final period.

Alex Ellis, Hamilton's All-Ohio performer, broke the deadlock and South dropped steadily behind. Three of Pug Hood's regulars contacted their fifth personals and the South offense fell completely apart before the pressing defense of the Big Blue. Ellis finished with 27 points and with the assistance of Bob Sweeten, with 15, turned the game into a rout in the final three minutes.

ELLIS WAS the difference as he performed in all roles for the champions. Although operating most effectively under the basket, the Big Blue star dumped in several two-pointers from the corner and played a top flight defensive game as well.

Earlier in the day, Lexington St. Aloysius had copped the Class B crown, also largely through the performance of a single player. Mike Allen, 6-8 scoring ace, poured in 35 points and aided his mates in staving off a last-minute threat by Coach Bob Arnzen's Delphos St. John crew to escape with a 65-63 verdict.

The new champs dropped behind in the early stages 8-2 when the team was apparently unable to do anything right. Four times in a row New Lexington lost the ball on unneccessary turnovers after bad passes and traveling infractions. They finished the first period with 11 turnovers and still managed to take a 17-16 edge.

WHILE ALLEN was the difference in the teams and news reports from the arena were billing him as the greatest thing in an Ohio tourney in years, fans who disagreed with newsmen were easy to find.

We belong to a minority group that went along with Delphos' Barney Altman as the most valuable player. Allen hit on 12 of 19 from the field while Altman sank 11 of 20, finishing with 23 points. Allen managed to give his mates complete control of their own rebounds but also appeared to be the slowest player on the court.

The only time he moved out of the keyhole was in the closing minutes when New Lexington went into a stall with a six-point lead. Delphos cut the deficit to two points and had tied allen up with a jump ball at the center of the court just as the clock ran out.

College coaches from throughout the midwest watched the ferformances of Ellis, Allen and Altman. Among them was Newt Oliver of Rio Grande. Newt wasn't mentioning which of the players he might be interested in but did ask about the possibility of bringing his Rio team to Marion for a game next winter.

'Mighty Mo' To Be Mothballed, Says New York Times

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today the battleship Missouri will be ordered this summer to join the mothball fleet.

A Times story from Norfolk, Va., said the 45,000-ton "Mighty Mo," one of the world's deadliest ships, is scheduled to go to Puget Sound Naval Shipyard at Bremerton, Wash., for a four-month process of mothballing, beginning in September.

The story said, "The Navy is convinced that the aircraft carrier has become the backbone of the fighting fleet."

The story said it is speculated in Norfolk that the Missouri will be followed to the mothball fleet by the three other battleships that are still in active commission—the Wisconsin, the Iowa and the New Jersey.

2 From Reynoldsburg Unhurt in Plane Crash

CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP) — Two Reynoldsburg men escaped injury yesterday when their light private airplane crashed in a farm field three miles northeast of nearby Magnolia.

The patrol said a dislodged battery became entangled in a rudder cable, causing Hazy to lose control.

YMCA Swim Stars Miss in Bids for Area Pool Honors

Marion's four YMCA swimmers who qualified for the Ohio-West Virginia Area swimming championships for junior and intermediate swimmers all turned in their best marks Saturday in the championships at the Ohio State University Natatorium but failed to place higher than sixth against tough competition.

Greg Axe, 13-year-old junior swimmer, came in sixth in the 75-yard individual medley race for Marion's lone point of the meet. His time was 60.9. Axe was swimming against two swimmers from the Toledo YMCA, Chet Jastremski and Marty Mull, who were both rated the best breaststroke and free style swimmers in the United States last year. Jastremski came in first with a time of 48 flat.

Jim Forsythe, an intermediate swimmer, came in seventh in the backstroke event for senior boys with a time of 1:14. John Dean, another intermediate swimmer, had a time of 1:18 in the same event.

Jim Jones did the 50-yard free style race in 28.3 and the 100-yard free style event in 1:06.3.

Next meet for the local tank team, in its first year here, will be Saturday at Springfield. A quadrangular meet is scheduled with Hamilton, Lima and Springfield.

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

Prize-Winning Play

Last night "Four Star Playhouse," one of the most thoroughly competent and professional dramatic series to come out of Hollywood, repeated its prize-winning drama, "The Last Voyage," starring Charles Boyer.

J. CROSBY

The two awards "The Last Voyage" won were from the Screen Writers Guild, the first award ever given to television by that body, and from the Screen Directors Guild, also the first ever given to television, and they were, of course, for writing and direction. Now, it's interesting to note that the source of both awards was the screen. "Four Star Playhouse" is a fine example of what the screen does best and what Hollywood does best.

-:-

OUR BETTER EASTERN live dramatic shows like Philco-Goodyear emphasize character; their better scripts are closer to stage techniques than movies with long scenes which pile emotion upon emotion. "Four Star," on the other hand, uses the movie-type of very short scenes which pile incident upon incident—and they do it very well. I realize I have been harsh on Hollywood in the past, so it's nice to give that community a pat on the back for a change.

"The Last Voyage" is about a sea captain who on his last trip before retirement is piloting a load of explosives to Japan. Just out of Yokohama, he gets a wireless message that a time bomb is set to blow up the ship a few hours after it docks, blowing up the dock with it. He turns his ship off course.

Knowing that the man who planted the bomb is aboard ship, he feels fairly confident that the man will crack and tell where the bomb is hidden rather than perish with the ship when he realizes the sip is not going to port.

BUT THE MAN DOESN'T crack. Or at least he doesn't for a very long time and meanwhile, practically the whole rest of the crew cracks wide open as the doomed ship plows steadily to no where. This gives Mr. Boyer, as the captain, a great chance to act noble and inflexibly determined—perhaps a little too noble and inflexible—and he has a field day with it.

Charles Boyer is what I like to call a thinking actor; that is, he delivers every line as if it had passed through is brain rather than just fallen out of his mouth.

"The Last Voyage" is not great drama; it is just darned good melodrama.

"Four Star Playhouse" is owned jointly by its producer, Don Sharpe and its three male stars, Mr. Boyer, David Niven and Dick Powell. It is rapidly getting to be one of the most valuable properties around. It is also a bellwether in leading top movie names to embrace television.

Just a year and a half ago, the big movie names were turning up their noses at television. "Who needs it?" was the cry. But "Four Star" has shown there can be almost as much gold in the television hills as in movies.

IN PICKING NIVEN, Boyer and Powell—each of whom produces his own scripts—Sharpe not only picked three of the best actors around but also three actors who are noted for their savvy. They pick their own scripts and, as Boyer has remarked, they have no one but themselves to blame if they produce a clinker—which is why they seldom do.

There is no permanent female star on the series but some very good actresses have appeared on it including Ida Lupino, Merle Oberon and Joan Fontaine. The camraderie between the male stars is touching—for Hollywood.

When Dick Powell was rushed to the hospital for an emergency operation, Niven cancelled a vacation and took over the role himself. More recently, Niven bought a script in London and then gave it to Boyer who, he thought, was better for the part than himself. Incidents like that are rare in screenland.

Incidentally, the prize-winning director of "The Last Voyage" is Robert Florey, the prize-winning authors Gwen and the late John Bagni. Mr. Bagni died of a heart attack a few weeks before he was to have received the award.

Oldest Civil War Vet Feted at Texas Airbase

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—An old man who fought in a war before automobiles and airplanes were heard of watched sleek sports cars flash along jet plane runways yesterday.

Walter W. Williams, 111, Confederate veteran and oldest of five living Civil War soldiers, was honorary commander of Bergstrom Air Force Base here during the National Sports Car Races.

He was flown from Bryan, near his home at Franklin, Tex.

He wore a Confederate uniform flown from Hollywood. His old uniform was destroyed by fire years ago.

Hard of hearing persons often say their ability to hear is lowered when they are nervous or upset.

LEARNS TO WALK AGAIN. Ginger Gray, 11, takes faltering steps toward her mother, Mrs. Ernest Gray, at her home in Bremerton, Wash., to show how she is learning to walk again. Ginger was blind, mute and paralyzed after a two-month coma because of car wreck injuries. Now she is recovering, despite a doctor's previous prediction of death. Ginger can see and is learning to talk again.

Restaurant Group Will Meet Tonight

The North Central Ohio Restaurant Association will hold its first formal meeting since its inception at the Jockey Steak House in Marion tonight at 8 o'clock.

Robert Burton, acting president, said restaurateurs in this area are showing considerable interest in the association, which is an affiliate of the Ohio State Restaurant Association. He reported fifty restaurants will be represented at the meeting. They are located in Marion, Delaware, Bucyrus, Upper Sandusky, Carey, Marysville, Prospect, Waldo, Nevada, Richwood, Green Camp, Kenton, Forest, Mount Blanchard, Mount Gilead, Cardington, Ashley, Caledonia, and Fulton.

The program will feature the election of permanent officers and trustees for the new group; adoption of a constitution; and a practical program presented by the Ohio State Restaurant Association. Refreshments and a dutch luncheon will round out the evening's activities.

Authority on Longevity

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Thirty years ago Rabbi Abraham Bernstein wrote a book on longevity.

Yesterday he celebrated his 100th birthday at a party attended by 75 persons, including five children, 14 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

The rabbi's formula for long life: cleanliness and a good diet.

In the United States there are 1,312,000 broken or disrupted families headed by men and 4,654,000 headed by women.

Baby Placing Under Probe in Butler County

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Prosecutor Jackson Bosch said today he is investigating a possible "gray market" in the placing of babies in Butler County.

Warren L. Harding, county welfare director, gave Bosch complaints involving six separate cases.

"Some mothers haven't been too careful in the placement of babies," Bosch said. "Some times the parentage is doubtful. So the mothers place their children with some married couple. Perhaps the couple pays the mother. Or the mother pays nothing for the child's living and feeding expenses. Then in two or three years, after the foster parents become fond of the child, the mother demands her son or daughter."

If evidence of law violation is uncovered, the grand jury will be asked to act later in the week, the prosecutor said.

"So far as I know there has been no selling of babies," he said. "There's no 'black market' but there may be a 'gray' one."

State law provides all child-placements for boys and girls under 2 years old must be supervised by welfare officials.

Three Climb Ventilator Shaft, Flee Jail at Lima

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Law officers are continuing their search for three men who escaped from the Allen County jail yesterday.

They are Don D. Rankin, 22, of Columbus; James A. Moore, 53, of Lima, and Richard A. Rupert, 23, of nearby Spencerville. The men apparently crawled up a ventilator shaft, Sheriff Clay Cotterman said.

All three were indicted last week by the grand jury. Rankin was charged with driving an auto without the owner's consent, Moore with burglary and larceny and Rupert with armed robbery.

Safe Found Best Hiding Place for Loose Money

SALT LAKE CITY (UP)—Sometimes a safe is more safe than any other "safe place" in the opinion of a Salt Lake City merchant whose store was recently burglarized.

After reading of a series of burglaries, M. W. Spencer, co-owner of an ice cream company, took the cash from his floor safe and hid the money in inconspicuous hiding places around the store.

A few nights later a burglar ransacked the store and stole more than $200 from its hiding place in a bundle of linen. The safe was not disturbed.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was irregular today with aircrafts, electronics, and mining issues well ahead.

Gains ranged to between 1 and 3 points at times. Losses were found in such key issues as rails and rubbers and extended to around a point.

The market started higher with a rush, and then enough losses put in an appearance to make the list mixed. That situation continued on into the early afternoon.

General Electric was a strong favorite along with Boeing, and both made outstanding gains. Westinghouse came to life later with a good gain.

Aircrafts as a group have been big speculative favorites in recent sessions, and they continued that role today.

Mule Day Program Gets Gate, Regular Fish Fry Substituted

PARIS, Tenn. (UP) — The once-mighty mule has suffered its most humiliating blow here.

No longer will governors of the state throw well-manicured hands around equally well-pedicured mules and tenderly kiss the beasts on their clammy snouts.

And a fish is the cause of it all.

After nearly a century, this city has done away with its annual "Mule Day" celebration. From now on, a fish fry will be held instead.

In the old days, winter mud kept farmers at home, but the first "good road" days of spring saw them pour into Paris to buy supplies and trade mules.

Over the years, "good road" day became established as the first Monday in April, because the quarterly court sat on that day and farmers could air a winter's collection of grievances.

Mule trading became a symbol of this day. Farmers left home on Sunday, slept in wagons which clogged the roads that night and arrived in town early Monday to trade mules and swap jokes.

Finally, the first Monday in April was officially recognized as "Mule Day."

Dignitaries and just plain sightseers flooded the city. Parades and beauty events added to the holiday air. Politicians — from governors to visiting political leaders — embraced mules as heartily as they did voters while photographers snapped their pictures.

But then, mules began to vanish from the fields, muscled out of the way by the tractor.

Last year, Chamber of Commerce officials had to travel more than 100 miles to find enough of the long-eared animals to enter in the annual exhibition so that the blue, red and white ribbons could be claimed.

That search set Chamber officials to thinking. Recently they called a confab and delivered the coup de grace to "Mule Day."

Henceforth, they decided, the city will celebrate with the "biggest fish fry in the world."

About 73 per cent of U.S. widows live in urban areas compared with about 70 per cent of single women and 66 per cent of married women.

Fish Being Taught To Come to Dinner

HAMILTON, Ont. (UP) — Fish are trained to answer a dinner bell to obtain their food in a tank at McMaster University.

It is part of an experiment being carried out at Hamilton College to determine the hearing ability of fish. The research is the only project of its kind in North America.

Dr. H. Kleerekoper, the man in charge of operations, said fish do hear, but do not have the same type of ear as the higher animals and their range includes sounds anywhere between a few cycles to 7,000 cycles per second.

In other words, fish can hear lower tones than humans but do not have as high a range of hearing.

Dr. Kleerekoper and his researchers started training fish by having them associate sounds of a certain frequency with the getting of food

In a small tank set up in the university's biological department, four microphones to carry sound from audio-oscillators were attached to each corner and submerged in water when in use.

Minnows were trained to swim to the source of the sound from one microphone, and later they rushed to the mike to receive their meal whenever it was turned on and certain sounds transmitted.

Movie cameras showed the fish did not swim in a straight line to the mike, but followed the curving path of certain sound waves.

It was also learned fish can distinguish clearly between two or more different tones and they have a memory for certain others.

Dr. Kleerekoper doesn't believe what fishermen say about noise scaring off "the big ones" and a fish that gets away warns others. The scientist said fish have to be taught to associate certain sounds with danger

"And," he added, "I doubt if any ever escaped from a fish hook and passed the information of his narrow escape onto other fish. They can't talk."

Construction of a 610-mile, eight-inch fuel pipeline from Haines to Fairbanks, Alaska, now is under way with completion scheduled for September, 1955.

Adoption Case Closed Without Baring Secrets

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—A "baby adoption racket" uncovered here will remain a mystery although legally settled because the woman who knew its secrets carried them to the grave.

No one has even been able to explain why Miss Georgia Tann, who dedicated her life to unwanted children, placed babies for profit.

The case broke three years ago when the governor ordered an investigation into reports of a $1,000,000 "black market" in baby adoptions at the foundling home run by Miss Tann.

Miss Tann died of cancer shortly after the probe started. She never knew the state was investigating her operation of the Tennessee Children's Home Society here.

The case itself is a study in contradictions.

The state charged that Miss Tann sought out unwed expectant mothers and paid their expenses in exchange for their babies, that she doubled up on expenses for babies placed in New York and California and "fraudulently and unlawfully converted" the money to her own use.

However, the home's board of directors, which also investigated the case released an entirely different version.

The board said Miss Tann did make "excess money" in travel and investigation fees before placing babies in out-of-state homes and that "this was wrong." The board said it was "guilty of crass stupidity" and was "completely fouled" by Miss Tann.

But it denied there was any "black market" in babies and said "each and every adoption has been for the best interest and welfare of the child."

Only two things are certain. Miss Tann did overcharge for trips in connection with adoptions and she did illegally convert the money to her own use.

She did it by sending social workers on out-of-state trips with more than one baby at a time. The social workers would investigate hopeful foster parents and complete several adoptions on that one trip.

But instead of splitting travel and expense costs, Miss Tann charged each couple the full amount, and had them make their checks payable to "Miss Georgia Tann."

Robert L. Taylor, special counsel in the state investigation, claimed the actual cost of each adoption was about $100 and that Miss Tann charged an average fee of $750 per child.

Records for the years 1940-50, while Miss Tann was in charge, show 1,016 children placed outside the state. One Child went to Dick Powell and his wife, June Allyson, the movie stars.

Three months after Miss Tann died, the state filed suit against her estate for $500,000 it claimed Miss Tann made in excess charges. The state said the money was collected by "fraud," but nonetheless properly belongs to the home and not the estate of Miss Tann."

The suit was settled out-of-court recently, with Miss Tann's heirs agreeing to give the Tennesse Children's Home Society two-thirds of her $82,000 estate. But the settlement failed to shed further light on the case.

Miss Tann was constantly after the state legislature to liberalize the adoption laws. She couldnt see why "so many children" were kept in institutions "at a cost to taxpayers of $10 a week or more" when "scores of homes are offered for every child available for adoption."

Ironically, one of her last efforts beyond her job dealt with the subject of "black market" babies. A New York publishing house had requested a story on the subject. Miss Tann dictated one full cylinder on a recording machine but was fatally stricken before she had made clear her viewpoint.

BENTLEY LEAVES HOSPITAL. Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.), most seriously wounded of the five congressmen shot in the House chamber by Puerto Rican fanatics March 1, leaves Casualty Hospital in Washington accompanied by Mrs. Bentley. Bentley's doctor said he is "doing very well" and may be able to resume his congressional duties within a month.

2 Men Sought In Robbery of Detroit Woman

A statewide message for the apprehension of two men was issued Sunday morning by the Marion County sheriff's office after a Detroit woman reported they robbed her of about seven dollars in cash and $244 in jewelry.

Dorothy Tredway of Detroit, told the sheriff's office that she was hitch-hiking to Virginia when she was offered a ride with two men just north of Toledo. She rode as far as Morbitt's Tavern on N. Main St., when they robbed her and and then forced her out of the car, she reported.

Arrangements were made through the Marion County Welfare Department to secure lodging for her in a local hotel overnight and then to see about securing transportation for her to her destination.

At 11 a.m. today the woman had not requested assistance at the Welfare Dept.

UNDERGROUND

REDMOND, Ore. (UP(—City officials see the huge underground caves which extend beneath the city as a state park and a tourist attraction. But one resident has a different idea of how the caverns should be used. R. S. Roduner says the damp, dark caves are ideal for mushroom growing and he'd like to start growing them commercially if the city fathers would give him permission.

Civil War Relic Finally Made Safe for Display

RICHLAND, Wash. (UP)—A relic of the Civil War period is safely on display here now that an Army ordnance squad has disarmed the 92-year-old cannonball.

Capt. Henry T. Jackson, squad commander, said the ball easily could have been exploded before his men made it harmless. He said it contained its original powder and fuse.

Mrs. K. R. Thomas, owner of the cannonball, called in the Army "just to make sure" when she decided to use it in a women's club antique display. She said her family had owned the 51-pound ball since her father found it at Sitka, Alaska, during World War II.

Newest Scientific Use Found for Billiard Ball

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UP)—A recent order for one-dozen billiard balls jolted the University of California purchasing department until it discovered they were wanted for developing more effective methods of spraying citrus trees with insecticides.

The numbered spheroids were hung with 25 glass tubes inserted at key spots along their surfaces to indicate whether spray reached all parts of the simulated fruit.

Thus the efficiency of mechanized spraying machines was determined easily, along with the many variables of speed through the orchard, water pressure needed and sizes of nozzles.

Kentucky Family Helps To Keep Marines Full

PADUCAH, Ky. (UP)—The L. T. Baggett family believes it holds a record for the number of brothers serving in one branch of the military forces.

Seven Baggett brothers either have served in the U. S. Marine Corps since 1952 or are now Marines. During the past 11 years, there has been only one span of eight months in which there was not at least one Baggett brother in the Marines.

An eighth Baggett, now 13, naturally plans to join up when he reaches enlistment age.

During World War II, the Baggetts even tried to enlist their dog in the Marine canine service and felt rather insulted when told the dog was too small—but that the Army might accept him.

HARDLY WORTH TROUBLE

BOSTON (UP) — What chance does a prison escapee stand of staying free? Not much, according to Massachusetts records. Only two of the 34 convicts who escaped from Massachusetts State Prison during the past 35 years remained at large. And every one of the more than 300 who have escaped from Concord Reformatory since 1878 have been recaptured.

Train Plunges From Burning Trestle, 1 Hurt

STEILACOOM Wash (AP) — In what the engineer called 30 seconds of hell eight units of a 73 car Union Pacific Railroad freight train plunged through a burning trestle into Puget Sound here yesterday

The only casualty was L R Pearson a brakeman who suffered minor burns about the eyes as he braved flames to save three carloads of bellowing cattle

Union Pacific officials placed damage to the trestle and to the cars at more than $300 000

Engineer William Boyce said he was highballing along the water side track toward Seattle some 40 miles to the north when he rounded a curve and saw flames billowing from the trestle

He applied the air brakes but the heavily laden train couldn t be stopped before the three diesel units and 19 cars ploughed through the flames The next eight cars dropped through to the water as the trestle gave away. Four cars burned

The destroyed cars carried wax tires refrigerators and shoes The cause of the fire was not determined

Davis To Quit President Post At Rio Grande

Ex-Upper Sandusky Superintendent Takes Position in Virginia

RIO GRANDE, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Charles E. Davis, for the last three years president of Rio Grande College, has resigned to accept an unannounced educational post in Virginia.

This was announced today by Dr. J. Boyd Davis of Columbus, chairman of Rio Grande's board of trustees and himself a son of a former Rio Grande College president.

Dr. Charles Davis came to Rio Grande in 1951 from the superintendency of the Upper Sandusky public schools. He also had served in varying capacities at schools in Oak Hill, in his native Jackson County, and in Clark County. Before World War II he was a high school principal at Lima.

He served as an Army major in World War II, is married and the father of two children.

Dr. Charles Davis is a graduate of Rio Grande and took his Master's Degree at Wittenberg. He played professional football for some years after his graduation.

Announcement of his new position will be made shortly.

Dr. Charles Davis will continue at Rio Grande through the present scholastic year. Dr. Boyd Davis said a successor has not yet been selected.

Circuit Judge Harry Adams said "they are legally married. I have no choice." The couple eloped last month, Murchison charged that the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Brothers Held In 2 Burglaries At Chillicothe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three brothers, one of them hospitalized with bullet wounds, were held for investigation today after two business places near Chillicothe were ransacked of money and liquor.

Held under police guard in University Hospital is Smith Thacker, 22, of Columbus. Booked for investigation of burglary were the two other brothers, Cecil, 32, of Columbus, and Robert, 19, of Wheelersburg, W. Va.

Ross County Sheriff's Deps. Marty Eblin and John Corcoran said the Gold Key, a tavern, and the Hi Buddy Inn, both on U.S. 23 about six miles south of Chillicothe, were ransacked about 3 a.m. today.

M. C. Cauble, owner of the Hi-Buddy Inn, heard a noise and saw a man outside the building. He fired at him twice with a .22 caliber rifle. Several hours later Smith Thacker was admitted to the hospital here for treatment.

Later police found an automobile parked outside the hospital. In it they said they found tools which could be used in opening safes, bottles of whisky and rum and two money bags. One of the bags bore the name of a Chillicothe bank, the other the name of a bank in Oklahoma. Each contained about $100 in silver.

Smith was shot in the arm and leg.

Irked Motorist Proves Point After Legal Battle

ATLANTA, Ga. (UP) — A man fined $100 for blowing an auto horn in Thunderbolt, Ga., has won his first legal victory in two years of litigation over the case.

Charles E. Rose, Jr., of Savannah, Ga., carried his appeal of the fine to the state's supreme court only to have it turned down on a technicality, but the court of appeals held a different view.

In a ruling on the man't later suit to recover the $100, the appeals court ruled he had grounds for a trial of his claim of having been illegally convicted by a municipal court of breaking a state law.

Judge Ira Carlisle said in his opinion:

"We have had to study this case more than if it were a $50,000 damage suit. We had to hold several conferences and look up many old cases before we could rezch a decision.

Liquor Agents Resort to Tear Gas in Alliance

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—State Liquor agents, moving in behind exploding tear-gas shells, raided Al's Cafe in nearby Mahoning County yesterday and reported routing 150 persons they said were drinking after hours and gambling.

George Mills, the proprietor, was fined $200 and costs a mayor's court in Sebring on bootlegging charges.

John L. Kocevar, Canton district enforcement supervisor who helped lead the seven-man raiding party, said he fired two 12-guage tear-gas shells to subdue a crowd he said threatened to repel his squad.

Agents later slipped back into Alliance where they raided three other places. Cited on Sunday sales charges were the Roma Social Club the Rumanian Transylvania Club and American Legion Post 369 Club.

Second Victim Claimed In Auto Crash at London

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 54-year-old Cleveland man, Walter Woodford, died in Mount Carmel Hospital today, becoming the second victim of a head-on two-car collision about five miles northeast of London on U. S. 42.

Woodford was one of four persons injured in the accident which yesterday claimed the life of Ben Mason, 60-year-old Cleveland policy figure.

Mason's wife, Blanche, 54, one of those injured, was reported in fair condition.

$12,809 Court Suit Filed by Crestliner

BUCYRUS — Roy Dotson, 39, of Crestline, is plaintiff in a $12,809 action for money filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here against the Dearman Transportation Co., Mansfield, as a result of a truck-auto collision near Galion on Aug. 12, 1953.

Dotson alleges that he suffered rib, chest, thigh and leg injuries and that the leg injury resulted in traumatic arthritis, a condition which he believes is permanent. His petition states he was confined to Galion City Hospital three days and confined to his bed at home for nearly three months.

The plaintiff charges that he was driving east on Route 30-S and the truck was coming from the opposite direction. As the vehicles passed, part of the truck cargo, including bags of buckshot, was thrown free, striking him and knocking him unconscious. As a result, Dotson's car veered to the opposite side of the highway and collided with an auto driven by Mrs. Frank E. Thomas, Beaver Falls, Pa.

Faith in the Bible

By REV. CARL N. LAUER
Pastor of First Church of the Brethren

"And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us."—John 1:14.

If we accept the statement in the opening of the Gospel of Saint John: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God, the same was in the beginning with God. . . . And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth." I say, if we accept this statement of John as inspired truth, then we need have no trouble in believing the gospel records of the virgin birth, miracles, death and resurrection of our Lord. If Jesus Christ was God manifested in the flesh, we must expect the manner of His incarnation, manifestation, life and words to be unusual, extraordinary and far above that of ordinary men.

We rejoice with other believers who have a positive faith in the Christ of the Bible, with all it claims for Him, and all He claims for Himself. In our Lord Jesus there were blended two natures without sin. The wisdom of this marvelous union is higher than we can reach; the mystery of it is deeper than we can solve, but we grasp the glory and power of it by our faith. God has given us in Christ a unique Being different from any other in all the realm of being. He has the human nature which enables Him to suffer with us, and the divine nature which enables Him to save us.

The author of Hebrews, speaking of the humanity of our Redeemer, writes: "For it became Him, for Whom are all things, and by Whom are all things, in bringing many sons to glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through suffering." Hebrews 1:10.

The apostle does not indicate here that Jesus had any sin for which He must suffer, but the teaching is that through suffering Jesus becomes a sympathetic Saviour that, having suffered He is brought into touch and holy fellowship with all sufferers, who by faith, accept Jesus Christ as their Saviour and Redeemer.

PRAYER: Help us, our Heavenly Father, by faith to accept and believe that portion of Scripture found in 2 Corinthians 8:9 which states, "For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though He was rich, yet for your sakes He became poor, that ye through His poverty might be rich."

Election Highlights State CAR Meeting in Galion

GALION --"Be a crusader for American ideals in your schools, and not only in the schools, but all through your life. There are not many countries in this world where father and mother, brother and sisters can get up and say what they think . . . this great freedom, we must work to preserve and protect . . . liberty is the fruit of constant effort." were words of challenge and caution spoken here by Mrs. Charles Carroll Haig of Washington, D.C., national president of the Children of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Haig was guest speaker at the 18th annual conference of the Ohio State Society, CAR, which was held in Galion Saturday at the First Methodist Church.

The Bee Hunters Society, CAR of Galion, was host for the conference, assisted by Olentangy Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, sponsors of the CAR. More than 150 members and guests, representing the 27 societies in Ohio, were greeted by the senior state president, Miss Ramona Kaiser of Cincinnati, when she called the conference to order during the morning session. She introduced Carlton Dean Cunningham of Galion, who headed the CAR society this year as junior state president.

IN ALL OF THE TALKS by the speakers, was reflected the need to protect and preserve the great liberties of this nation which was founded by the forefathers of the CAR, DAR, and the Sons of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Haig's talk highlighted the afternoon session following the luncheon. She admonished the younger generation and their senior sponsors to pledge allegiance to the United States flag with all fervence and sincerity, and never to any other flag. She warned about making a pledge to the flag of the United Nations as some schools are now practicing. She cautioned her listeners to watch for those textbooks in the schools where praise is given world government and world citizenship by subtle insertions between the great historical events. She announced the national CAR convention which will be held in Washington, and gave many facts about the organization, its achievements, and purposes.

In the morning, the state regent of the DAR, Mrs. Marshall Bixler of Fremont, extended greetings to the convention. She declared. "We must stand together or we perish—the CAR, the DAR, the SAR, and Uncle Sam—the four. If we do this, nothing can destroy us."

GUEST SPEAKER Rev. Norman R. Somerville, pastor of First Methodist Church, Galion, said "I think of the CAR as keeping alive the sense of heritage of America—when a nation loses its sense of heritage, there is danger of its loss of destiny—the man who has no great yesterdays, has no great tomorrows—the fundamental problem in America today is the spiritual problem."

New senior state officers, elected in the morning, were presented in the afternoon by Miss Kaiser, senior state president, and sworn in by Mrs. Haig, national president, are: senior state president, Mrs. C. E. Fry of Canton; first vice president, Mrs. E. H. Tiemeyer of Newtown; second vice president, Mrs. Robert Yadon of Nelsonville; recording secretary, Mrs. W. D. Parker of Canton; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert McClarren of Reynoldsburg; state treasurer, Mrs. Caroline Fletcher of Tontogany; registrar, Laurabel Mooney of Mount Sterling; librarian - curator, Mrs. P. Freemon of Mount Sterling; parliamentiarian, Mrs. Marshall Bixler of Fremont; state historian, Mrs. C. K. Cunningham Jr., Galion.

New junior state officers are: president, Ann Tiemeyer of Cincinnati; first vice president, Larry Gilliland of Van Wert; second vice president, Sarah McClarren of Columbus; chaplain, Charlotte Honk of Canton; recording secretary, Stacey Yaden of Dayton; corresponding secretary, Ray McMillen of Fremont; treasurer, Patricia Fletcher of Tontogany; registrar, Barbara Cunningham of Galion; historian, Barbara Sherer of Galion; librarian-curator, Charles Cummings of Columbus; color bearers, Jesse Bartley of Findlay and Stanley Huber of Bettsville.

CARLTON CUNNINGHAM, of Galion presided for both morning and afternoon sessions. Bucyrian Charged As County Butter Supply Is Found

BUCYRUS — Albert Wurm, 42, Bucyrus restaurant owner, has been held to the Crawford County grand jury under $1,000 bond following his plea of innocent to a charge of receiving stolen goods at his arraignment before Robert C. Neff, Bucyrus justice of peace.

Charges were filed against Wurm by Charles Hinckley, county welfare director, after Sheriff E. F. Jacobs found about 25 pounds of welfare-issued butter, in the restaurant refrigerator. Wurm furnished bond.

Police said the butter was stolen March 2 from the county welfare offices here by William Insco, 48, of Bucyrus, who has been held to the grand jury and has been in the county jail here since early this month. Insco told authorities he had stolen a 32-pound butter case and that he took it to Wurm, who promised to pay him $5 for it but that he had not been paid.

Wurm said customers often left perishable food with him for temporary storage in his refrigerator and that the butter had been left at the restaurant by a customer with whom he was unacquainted.

Survival Drill

The Armed Services Committee of the U. S. Senate, top civilian organization with responsibility for military security, has been briefed on basic necessity in civilian defense.

This is a master plan for the speedy evacuation of each target city in advance of an air raid, on the assumption the raid would be made with atomic bombs.

Military defense with guided missiles, anti-aircraft guns firing shells with proximaity fuses and ultra-sonic interceptor planes would be expected to knock down enough raiding planes to keep the enemy from controlling the air.

In the meantime, counterattacks would diminish the strength of the enemy at home. But there always would be the possibility that at least one plane would get through to drop one bomb — and one hydrogen bomb would be enough.

The objective of civilian defense would be to save the inhabitants of cities. The cities, themselves, would be abandoned. Therefore, the basic necessity has become a master plan for the evacuation of every key target city in the United States.

There would need to be a day plan and a night plan, a cold-weather plan and a warm-weather plan. Every resident would be assigned to a vehicle for escape. Every resident would have a personal duty to perform. It would be a massive version of a schoolhouse fire drill or a ship boat drill.

The master plan would cover every contingency, including shelter and food for millions of Americans who might have to come to hard terms of survival for weeks at a time in remote places cut off from utilities and services.

This is the emerging shape of the atomic era — this looming specter of an explosion so tremendous a vast city like London could have been blown into eternity in 1940 by one thermonuclear device dropped at the outset of the old-fashioned air raids which still hadn't destroyed the city five years later.

Beyond Expectations

There has been no time since nuclear physicists began to experiment with atomic explosions when they said they were disappointed with the violence of the results.

But finally there has been a time when the physicists expected much too little. It was revealed in last Wednesday's presidential press conference that they were astonished by the violence of the latest explosion — the one believed to have been caused by the first H-bomb capable of being delivered to a target.

For the first time there is reason to believe that the nuclear reaction got out of control. The danger area was not huge enough to take care of the consequences. People who were presumably at a safe distance were showered with radioactive "ashes." Even the Japanese islands — hundreds of miles beyond the remotest limits of the official danger zone — seem to have been reached by the violence of science's lethal plaything.

It never was clearer that humanity has no security outside the ethics which restrain its own members. The illusion of security based on the unjustified belief that governments and scientists who work for governments know at all times exactly what they are doing and when to stop has been blown into oblivion along with a lot of worthless real estate in the Pacific Ocean.

All Tastes Are Acquired

A statement keeps cropping out in the coffee-price discussion so frequently it is beginning to stir curiosity.

It goes like this: That consumers in the United States can be depended on to buy coffee at any price and therefore the law of supply and demand will not have any effect on the coffee situation; i.e., people will buy coffee at any price.

What this seems to say is that the taste for coffee will be stronger than distaste for the steadily-rising price of coffee. It may work that way.

But the fact remains that the taste for coffee is acquired, like the taste for olives, butter, cucumbers, caviar, tea and pop.

Caviar never has made the grade in the United States; its devotees are not sifinificantly numerous. Cucumbers, likewise, are an in-and-out commodity. Olives, tea and pop have devoted followings.

Butter once had a devoted following, too. But when the price went too high, a great many Americans who had acquired a taste for butter "unacquired" it, pending a decline in the government-supported price.

Ohio Farm Bureau News has reported a slide from 10.6 pounds of butter per capita in 1950 to 8.6 pounds in 1953, which does not reflect the slide that had occurred long before 1950. The average from 1935 to 1939, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, was 16.6 pounds of butter per person—nearly twice what it was last year.

The coffee people shouldn't be too sure.

Racketeers Fight To Hold Control of ILA

WASHINGTON
Striking longshoremen who have all but paralyzed the port of New York today arranged a march, by bus and auto, on Washington to demonstrate in front of the White House.

What this will accomplish seems to add up to nothing. The stated aim is to protest the government's role in the affairs of their union, the old International Longshoremen's Assn.

The life of that union, found to be loaded with racketeers and gangsters, is at stake.

The New York strike by the ILA is not for wages or better working conditions. It is the result of a struggle with a rival AFL union to be recognized as sole union for the port's 40,000 longshoremen.

—:—

FOR 40 YEARS ILA reresented the New York waterfront's dock wallopers. It was a member of the American Federation of Labor. For 26 of those years its president was Joseph P. Ryan, who became, he thought, its permanent president. He had been elected for life.

In 1953 the New York State Crime Commission investigated the ILA and announced it was racket-ridden. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey stepped in to crush it. The AFL expelled it.

It was then the AFL set up the rival union. Ryan was indicted on charges of stealing $45,000 from ILA funds. The AFL began a hard recruiting drive to win away the ILA's members.

—:—

WORRIED ABOUT its chance for survival, the ILA replaced Ryan as president with tugboat captain William V. Bradley but voted Ryan a pension of $10,000 a year for life.

But trouble on the New York waterfront, where 200 million tons of cargo are handled yearly, bubbled and boiled over the question: Which union, the old ILA or the new AFL one, had a right to represent the longshoremen in bargaining with employers?

The National Labor Relations Board last December held an election among the dockers. Was this too soon? Had the new AFL union time to win a majority of the longshoremen to its side?

SECRETARY OF LABOR Mitchell, Gov. Dewey, and New York State Crime Commission and the AFL all said it was too soon and opposed the election. The NLRB held it anyway. The old ILA won.

But its margin of victory was only 1,452, so surprisingly small that the AFL had visions of winning if another election could be held a little later. It charged longshoremen voting in the December election had been intimidated by ILA goon squads and asked the NLRB to set aside the election. Gov. Dewey backed this.

The NLRB began an investigation, setting one of its examiners, Arthur Leff, to work on the case. As the weeks passed, the AFL seemed to be gaining strength, the old ILA losing.

If this continued the old ILA might wither away. But if the old ILA struck, it might demonstrate it still had enough strength to force a compromise.

THE NLRB got a federal judge to issue an injunction forbidding a strike. The ILA struck in defiance. The strike wasn't started officially. The strikers simply said they walked out, although the union gave its endorsement last week.

After the strike began 25 days ago, the AFL tried to start a back-to-work movement. ILA strikers got rough. New York mounted police tried to keep order. But the net result: shipping in the Port of New York stopped cold. Today a federal judge considers contempt charges against the union for striking in violation of an injunction.

Last Friday NLRB Examiner Leff recommended results of the December election be thrown out. If the full NRLB in Washington agreed, this would mean there'd be another election.

The full NLRB decided to meet tomorrow to consider Leff's recommendations. And on Saturday Secretary Mitchell and Gov. Dewey issued a joint statement denouncing the strike as a "Criminal conspiracy."

For Old Times' Sake

By TRUMAN TWILL

Life marches on and people pay the price of progress, but—

Things were not so bad when it might be a couple of days before a fellow in Dubuque knew that someone in Jersey City had called him a dirty name;

That was quite a little boxful of transmission old man Ford put into the Model T, besides the way it went on and on and on without costly repairs;

It was handy to know what was going on in the house across the street when the news traveled by grapevine as well as to know what is going on in Rangoon by transoceanic wireless;

Without taking anything away from the stuff that now comes in cans, packages and capsules it needs to be remembered once in a while that people ate with gusto and relish before supermarkets.

There didn't used to be anything like duplicating machines and typewriters that bang out words with the speed of wind, but there didn't used to be anything like some of the tommyrot and verbal meringue these devices spew out either.

Education has been taking giant steps forward and now is only a few laps behind the atomic scientists. It is only with a mighty effort that skeptics can recall that most of the educators now teaching are uneducated according to their own standards.

There were mighty few cases of sheer inability to get where you wanted to go before there were traffic pileups, screaming ambulances and harrassed insurance agents trying to keep rates abreast of risks.

Seeing Jenny Lind once in a lifetime compared favorably in net enjoyment with seeing dozens, or is it hundreds, of curvaceous cuties who fill the electronic air with off-key noises of the kind described as "throaty."

There was just as much air in existence a few years ago as there is today, though it hadn't occurred to anyone then that the air was so foul it needed to be conditioned before it was fit to breathe.

A fellow who wanted a new suit asked for something that was all wool and did not need to be a part-time chemist to figure out the percentages of Foofawn mixed in with the Fumadiddle to improve on the quality of the wool.

The U.S. Senate was a sedate organization of elderly gentlemen in wing collars who gave rise to belly - laughter takeoffs like "Change The Name of Arkansas" and never permitted their gentlemen's club to be turned into a bear pit.

Springtime could be enjoyed most years for what nature intended it to be, without misgivings prompted by the historic fact it also has been the favorite time for starting wars.

Old Glory had 48 stars neatly arranged in a geometric pattern, and no one wasted any time figuring out how to put in one or two more, depending on which way the political wind might blow the day after tomorrow.

A kid with a bicycle in working order could ask for nothing more out of life. A juvenile delinquent was a melon stealer and snowball-thrower, instead of a switch-knife killer with ideas about owning a convertible for the getaway

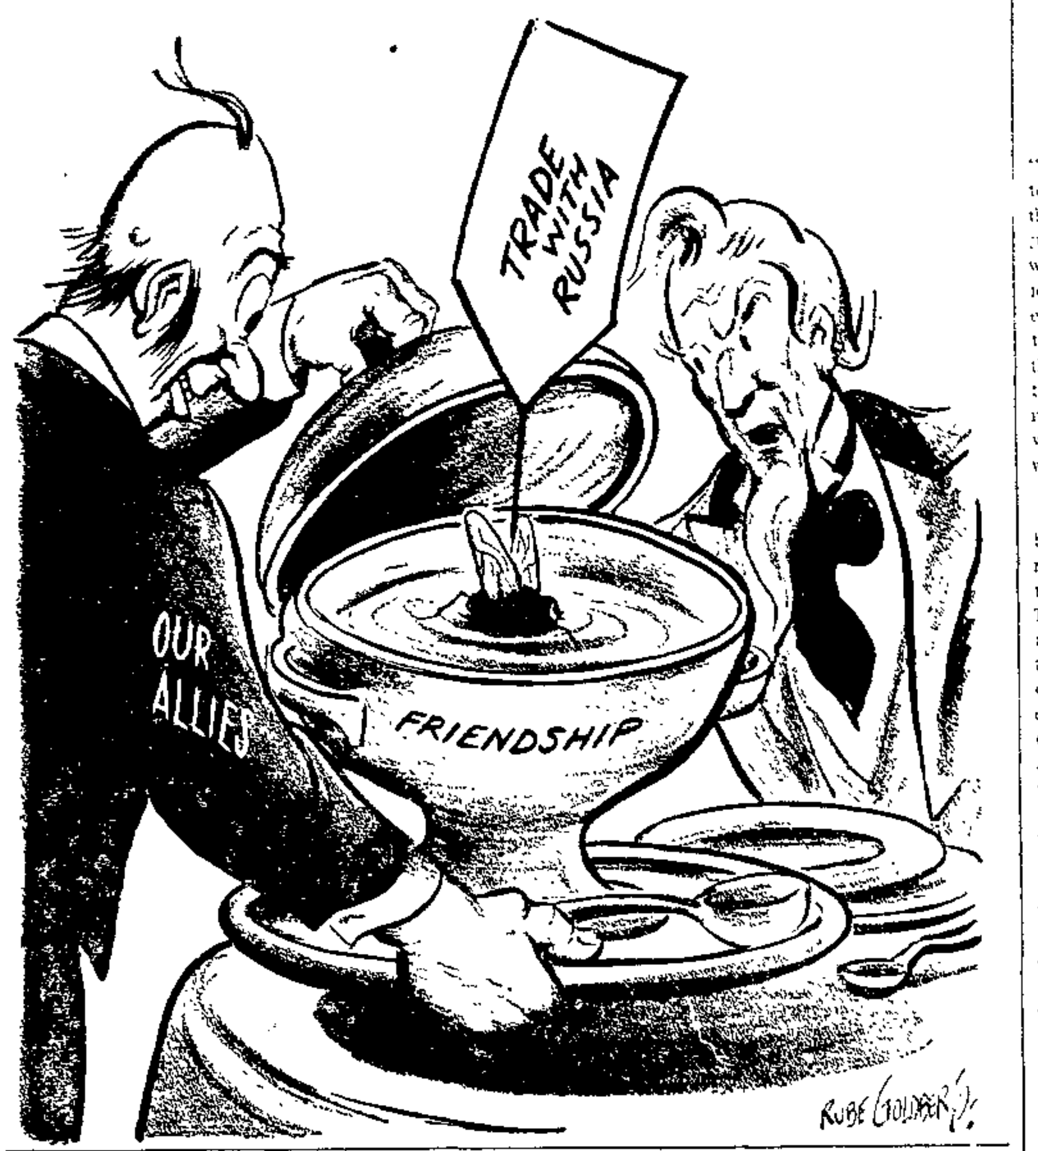
Fly in the Soup



Factual Case for Wisconsin Senator

By Raymond Moley

Two audacious young men, William F. Buckley, Jr., and L. Brent Bozell, have contributed a book which should, on balance, be a factor in moderating the national storm over Sen. McCarthy. To youth almost alone it is reserved to brave an effort like this.

Buckley, the senior author, is an extraordinary young man. After his graduation from Yale four years ago, he set the academic community agog with his "God and Man at Yale." The attacks upon him for that added no new dignity to his academic elders, while Buckley kept what seemed to me a rational calm.

The new "McCarthy and His Enemies" is pro - McCarthy, with vital reservations. The effect upon me, after reading it, was to move me from somewhere on the McCarthy side of the line that divides the senator from his critics toward the middle of the road.

Perhaps the authors did not intend that to be the effect upon a reader, but it happened because they have fairly set forth the opposition's case as well as their own frank criticisms of McCarthy.

ON THE McCARTHY side, they clearly make the point that the senator has done more than anyone else to alert a generally complacent nation to Communism's sinister efforts to entrench itself in vital places in government and in the opinion - making strongholds of the nation.

They also make the point that McCarthy, however crudely, has shown the dangers of liberal tolerance and indifference to Communism and the sympathetic bonds between the authentic Communist and the Marxian who undermines faith in our institutions and traditions in the name of "liberalism."

McCarthy has made this demonstration, not in the abstract, but by the presentation of actual cases, with names and dates.

In balance, I believe that the book makes it clear that the actual injury to innocent persons has not been great.

Whether, as many critics assert, McCarthy has deeply injured the more subjective but important element known to some as "mutual confidence" or to others as "freedom of the mind" is something that no book can answer. In fact, I don't know whether it can be answered at all.

McCarthy, the authors admit over and over, "exaggerates." They label that as a venial, not a mortal, sin. But I cannot agree that exaggeration is relative, not absolute.

I MAY FEEL that Professor X was a fool to join subversive organizations and thus that he disqualified himself for a position of trust; but to call him "disloyal" is to bring a major and unprovable count into the indictment.

I may believe that General Z or Secretary Y by his official acts precipitated events which have imperiled our nation, but to say that he was a party to a conspiracy is unbelievable and untrue. By calling a common cold tuberculosis a doctor could cause his incredulous patient to neglect colds altogether.

These exaggerations are not merely errors of judgment. They are wrongful acts unworthy of people in responsible places.

I cannot fail to add that both McCarthy and the authors of this book are terribly confused when they attempt to draw a parallel between a public prosecutor and a legislative investigator. Some of the methods used may show a superficial identity but the distinction is vital.

THE AUTHORS make the point that under immunity a prosecutor may call a man a murderer who subsequently is set free by the jury. The immunity, however, is essential to the presentation of a case at law. From that the authors seem to conclude that a legislator may hurl characterizations under immunity which he cannot prove because it is essential to the presentation of his case.

In the case of the man accused of murder, there is a means of final judgment — the jury and the judges involved. In the case of a man accused of disloyalty by a legislator, there is no final, definitive, non-answerable instrument of judgment.

If there is a loyalty board, it is a part of the political administration which is accused. It can never enjoy the public prestige and confidence given to the processes of our judicial system. Our juristic institutions have the perfection and prestige of centuries of trial and error. Our legislative system is young in comparison.

The book, while bearing some few marks of youth and immaturity, also bears the marks of sincerity, laborious research, and usually calm and cogent presentation. It would have been better without the oversmart, smart-alec "Prologue" by William Schlamm.

It will be read by many, many thousands who, after digesting it, will witness the great debate with less passion and more understanding.

Tags for Car Drivers?

By Frank Tripp

When bus drivers and plane pilots shuttle from bus to bus or from plane to plane they carry with them an identification tab which bears their name. They post it in the passenger compartment where all riders can see it.

It is a symbol of competency. Car drivers carry their identification in their purse or pocket. Nobody save an authorized officer is free to demand proof that a driver is licensed, not until an accident happens and the damage is done.

Cars and trucks must carry numbered plates specifically issued to them in the name of the owner. But the catch is that the owner need not always drive his own car. He may loan it, hire a driver, or it may be stolen. The juvenile light-of-his-eye may sneak it out of the garage for a joy ride.

THE KILLER THAT is tagged so all may see is harmless until a human presides at its controls. Once there, any incompetent or criminal may whiz it through traffic for hours, days or weeks until he is caught. With luck he can cross the continent unmolested, unless he has an accident or comes upon a road block.

It is the driver, not the car, that ignores traffic laws, destroys property, maims and kills people; yet the states issue the only visible evidence of right to use the highways to a machine rather than to its driver. This enables countless incompetents to conceal their illegal status from the unfortunates who are endangered by their antics.

If it were possible for any citizen to know on sight that a driver isn't licensed, as readily as he can spot an unlicensed car, the roads could be ridded of many potential maimers and the work of traffic officers greatly simplified.

THERE IS A WAY to accomplish this. Suppose that, with the driver's license there was issued a distinctive thin plastic emblem the size of a playing card which a driver must attach to any vehicle that he is driving, then carry it away with him, as he should his car keys.

The place to display it should be conspicuous and uniform, such as a slot at the lower left hand corner of the windshield. A place where its absence would immediately attract attention.

Obviously such a gimmick would be no cure-all, would not stop car thefts nor help a driver who left his label in his car, as some do their keys. Such careless people will always be with us. Still any unauthorized use of a car would necessitate either a cancellable label in the possession of the vagrant driver or his theft of both a label and a car.

It is appalling how many fatal accidents are caused by unlicensed drivers and by juveniles who might have been spotted upon their first encounter with a traffic cop, had the officer, or any citizen, only need note the absence of such a telltale device.

Junior won't like this idea at all, though maybe pop would sleep better with his own label tucked safely under his pillow.

WELL, THERE YOU have the muse of an amateur fixer, who also wonders how come that chickens have well nigh eliminated traffic casualties, and people haven't.

Early motorists seldom took a ride into the country that they didn't kill from one to a half dozen chickens. Gradually the slaughter lessened. Fewer and fewer chickens were on the highways and the old gag "Why does a chicken cross the road?" went into the discard.

Mother hens that saw Aunt Jenny ground under the wheels of a passing automobile began to teach their chicks how to cross the road. Until today it is rare to see a hen on a highway, even way back in the sticks.

If a chicken could learn not to jay walk, why can't people?

Caution Called For

Getting a big lawyer to step into the Potomac "Truth or Consequences" program has been a tough job, the invitation being regarded as similar to stepping into the act where the man jumps from a 200-feet tower into a pitcher of water. To any attorney there must be 1,000 easier ways of winding up as a target for cartoons, editorials and letters to the editor. "Do Not Disturb" and "Out To Lunch" signs went up over the doors of hundreds of prominent barristers the minute the Senate subcommittee announced it wanted a counsellor to share the "Who said what to whom and who replied to whom with what?" hunt."

-:-

When a lawyer got word the senators wanted him as quizmaster, his relatives and friends rushed to his rescue, locked him in an upstairs room and cried "They can't do this to you!" They realized the Washington hassle takes so many strange twists that even a committee attorney could end up being drafted, put on "KP" duty, accused of being an enemy agent or suddenly asked "Why are you lying? Answer yes or no!" Anything can happen in this performance. The situation really called for an advertisement:

WANTED — Lawyer in rugged health, daring, fast on feet, anxious for adventure, accustomed to heavy going and unruffled by prospect of losing his reputation. Must have no political leanings and be able to work in Army pants and senatorial cutaway. Some experience on revolving floors helpful. Willingness to wind up professional career crying "I should have quit when I was ahead!" essential. Must furnish own traffic signals and have dog team in case of early winter. Man who makes a hobby of headaches will find rare opportunity. Apply Mundt, Washington, D. C.

We can fancy the opening video quiz:

Sen. Mundt — Mr. Counsel are you ready to go ahead?

Counsel—It is too late now for me to correct my mistake of taking this job.

Sen. Mundt — Are all the witnesses present and still ready to swear the other fellow is a liar in spades?

Witnesses (in unison) — Aye, aye, sir.

Sen. Mundt—We wish to say a few words to explain the issue here. Two groups of people disagree over what was said between them over the phone and at luncheons. The phone users and luncheon addicts of America will not feel safe until the vital issue is settled. Go ahead, Mr. Counsel.

Counsel — Gentlemen, you have chosen for your category of questions, the subject of liars. The jackpot gets you $2,800. The first question for $75 is — listen carefully — Who was Ananias, which side of the table is he on today and can you prove it.

Sen. Mundt — There's some mistake here, you're not a lawyer. You're Groucho Marx!

Counsel (Getting his TV programs still farther confused) — Gentlemen, can you name this tune? (The band plays the Star Spangled Banner.)

Voice — It's "I'm Walking Behind You."

Counsel — No. It just seems like that in this current Washington mood.

A Commercial — Do you want your washing to come out clean? Why not be sure you remove all dirt the easy way?

(This panics the meeting and brings a recess for station identification, a realignment of fighting lines and for discussing a rumor that Messrs. Cohn and Schine have decided to skip the subcommittee show and go on a TV "western" program where it won't be any rougher and even the posse will be friendlier.)

If Mrs. Lila Bell Acheson Wallace of Reader's Digest gets on the New York Central Board it would mean a condensation of the reports, keeping them extra readable . . . And it could lead to a parlor car with the lovely name "Lila Bell."

We must be in a depression: we just met a fellow who is keeping the old auto despite the fact it has a slight scratch on one fender. Just heard of a lucky fellow who married a girl whose father has a rare collection of coffee beans.

A scientist says it is up to Uncle Sam to beat Russia to the gun by establishing "stations in space," declaring that the first nation doing so will have the world at its mercy . . . It will be some fellow's hard luck some day to get assigned to kitchen police duty between the Big Dipper and the Milky Way.

Papermakers May Give Party Funds to School

WESTBROOK, Maine (AP)—Paper makers at the S. D. Warren mill will vote April 10 on this question: Shall the company celebrate its centennial by throwing a big party or by giving $100,000 for a high school gymnasium?

President George Olmstead Jr. and Manager Everett Ingalls said today their first thought was a party for all 2,700 workers and their families.

But they decided that would be "an expensive shindig—enjoyed for a day and nothing to show for it later." They estimated the cost of this "one-day bender" would be "almost enough to build a gymnasium for the new high school."

In a letter distributed to the workers, they said a gymnasium "would serve the community long after a picnic would be forgotten."

"If the majority vote is in favor of the gymnasium, we propose to give $100,000 for its construction."

New Warning

By Victor Riesel

Two men have been making the rounds of the FBI Congressional investigating committees and even the White House, under a cloak of what they hoped would be secrecy in an effort to sink a dagger into one of the most effective anti-Communist operations ever launched across the globe

RIESEL

These men are so highly placed that they could at least for a while get to the topmost security officials in the land — and even to President Eisenhower

They sought an investigation of the AFL s Free Trade Union Committee which is guided by AFL president George Meany AFL veeps Matt Woll and Dave Dubinsky and a husky, blond legendary figure by the name of Jay Lovestone

Since some Congressmen are considering such a probe I want to put on record — out of first hand knowledge — the fact that this AFL committee has helped deliver arms to our allies It has saved the lives of American boys It has fought the Communist Oriental opium rings It has checkmated the Soviet s world wide labor network

IT HAS BEEN THE ONLY force fighting neutralism inside labor the world over — especially in Asia One of its men with whom I ve worked closely traveled deep into the wilds of India and the jungles of Indonesia to make friends for ' capitalist ' America and de neutralize some Socialists and partisan Communists There he contracted an Asiatic disease which cannot be diagnosed Though one of the great masters of music and its history this man has given up all including his health to fight for his land And for less than a good U S stenographer s salary His name is Harry Goldberg I pay public tribute to him now

In Rome last summer I h ... had to shanghai Harry to the beach for relaxation so constantly was he working on the Sarragat Socialists in an effort to swing them into supporting a pro-U S cabinet Goldberg living in constant danger of Communist assault met 11 times in one week with Sarragat s party to win support for Prime Minister Scelba, the friend of the U S

A colleague of Goldberg a fighting Irishman by the name of Dick Deverall is stationed by the AFL s international committee in Tokyo I have seen copies of the pamphlets his office is smuggling into the Sovietized Chinese mainland Printed of course in Chinese on onionskin paper one is labeled Stalin vs Sun Yat sen The Truth About Life in Communist China On the flap is the legend Published by the Free Trade Union Committee AFL

THE AFL ALSO HAS its people in Guatemala The federation s Latin - American expert Serafino Romualdi was the first to warn of Soviet infiltration there Through this column and through the International Free Trade Union News Romualdi revealed years ago that the Communists were seizing control of labor in the Caribbean

I ve seen the AFL representatives work in France and in Germany where they supplied such items as paper and typewriters to anti Communist unionists to match the huge supplies of the Sovieteering labor organizations I could run through land after land showing how the AFL committee is fighting all totalitarianism Even Tito s — to the point where Tito and his commissars went out of their way recently to denounce the AFL in general and Jay Lovestone in particular

The total boss has e Lovestone the AFL committee s secretary Some 25 years ago Jay Lovestone spat in the eye of Joe Stalin — and has fought him ever since The point of the proposed investigations now being sought in Washington is to disclose that Lovestone led the U S Communists in the Twenties He did He broke He fought Under his direction the AFL Free Trade Union Committee has been helpful to every government agency concerned with the security of the U S

ON SEPT 30, 1939 Lovestone wrote

' Time and again we have pointed out that the various Communist Parties of the world are not political parties in the sense one speaks of such organizations in Western Europe and America

' For some time we have stressed that the Communist Parties have become mere agencies of the Russian foreign affairs department and the G P U We have repeatedly underscored that without exception all sections of the Communist International have become like the Russian Communist Party police parties '

Lovestone then added ' After years of membership in such an organization the individual mind becomes warped the duespayer becomes politically sterile Then Lovestone said ' Today the Stalin parties are no longer merely agencies of the Russian Foreign Office ' but are military weapons of the Russians and Nazis

That was 14 years ago Not enought people listened Le s listen now

Tale of a Frog

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Once upon a time a tadpole named Elwin lived in a small pond away out in the sticks

Elwin was different from the other little tadpoles All they wanted to do was to grow up and be big bull frogs and sit on a lily pad and sing jug-o rum jug o rum all night long But not Elwin He wanted to make his mark in the world

HAL BOYLE

One day a strong wind blew a tattered old circus poster into the pond The other tadpoles swam up and laughed at the picture of the elephants on the poster But not Elwin

That is the life for me ' he decided I want to go places and see things I m going to be an elephant '

ELWIN MADE the mistake of confiding his ambition to the other little tadpoles And did they jeer at him' Elwin s going to be an elephant ' they chanted Elwin s going to be an elephant ' Then they swam away laughing

All the residents of the small pond laughed at Elwin except his mother Matilda, and his father, Oswald J Frog

I don t care what you become Elwin' said his mother comfortingly Just so you are good and don t do anything to hurt your health

But Oswald J Frog was outraged He was extremely pompous about his family tree as his ancestor had been smuggled over on the Mayflower by a young Puritan lad

' You are making us the laughing stock of the entire pond he told his son coldly There hasn t been a scandal like this in the family since your great great grandfather—on your mother s side naturally—ran away with a toad I forbid you to be an elephant Get that nonsense out of your head

BUT ELWIN was determined to be an elephant When he began to change from a tadpole into a young frog he kept pulling on his nose to make it longer and learned to blow water through it He figured that to become an elephant he would have to eat like a horse so he ate all he could

At night he hopped into town to the public library and read every book he could find on elephants All day long he took elephant building exercises

Little Elwin ate and he ate and he grew and he grew until finally at last he woke up one morning and found he was—an elephant

At first Elwin was happy His mother was proud of him too But his father told him angrily 'You re nothing but a freak '

The other frogs his former playmates cut him dead 'With all your big ideas Elwin don t you find this pond a little small?' one of them told him

ELWIN BROODED then one night he packed hopped silently in and kissed his sleeping mother goodby, and ran away to join a circus

He thought the other elephants would welcome him But they snubbed him

You have a strange accent they told him And why can t you just trudge along like a decent elephant? Why do you have to hop all the time

' If I can t join your troupe said Elwin stubbornly I ll become a star in my own right

And he did He hired a smart manager and overnight Elwin The World s Only Hopping Elephant ' became world famous The climax of his act came when he slid down a short slide hopped over twelve barrels to each of which was fastened a pretty girl singing Dixie —and landed on his back feet bowing gracefully

When Elwin had become the wealthiest elephant in history, he received a telegram saying

' Your old friends and neighbors join me in asking you our pond s most illustrious son to return and be the main speaker at a banquet to kick off our annual community charity drive for aged amphibians Sorry we can t offer to pay your expenses (signed) Mayor Frog

EVERYBODY IN the pond was on hand to welcome Elwin His wrinkled old father reached up and patted him on the back of his leg and said fondly That s my boy Son I m proud of you

Cheers rose on every hand when Elwin got up to speak that night at the banquet

It is indeed a pleasure— Elwin began then went Harrumph harrumph

' Got a cold? ' asked the mayor

' Oh no Elwin laughed and then told the audience Excuse me Just a frog in my throat

' A frog? cried the mayor looking around to see if any of his constituents were missing

Panic spread through the crowd Lady frogs gathered their children about them and hopped away The big bullfrogs began hurling mud at Elwin as they hopped away backward

' I have reared an assassin cried his father Then he too disappeared

Look it s all a mistake ' said Elwin No answer He looked around wistfully and croaked jug-o rum jug o-rum But there was no reply The pond was empty

Heart broken Elwin returned to the circus made a farewell triumphal tour then retired and bought an apartment on Park avenue He spent the rest of his life in it alone as a hermit elephant reading his press clippings

Moral In this world a big heart is rarely understood by small minds

Rises in Hospital Costs Continue, Officials Say

CHICAGO (UP) — The cost of hospital care probably will continue to rise experts report

A poll conducted by Hospitals official journal of the American Hospital Association shows that most hospitals hope to find some relief from personnel shortages particularly among general duty nurses and non professional personnel

However they expect operating costs to continue to rise mostly due to increased payrolls

Hospitals in rural areas probably will have more bed space available but the need for more beds in metropolitan areas will continue

Many administrators believed that the cost of hospital care would be boosted due to a trend toward gradual reduction of the hospital work week from 48 and 44 hours to the standard 40 hours

FAYETTEVILLE W Va (UP) —George Sodder refuses to believe that five of his nine children died in a fire that destroyed the family s home on Christmas Eve 1945
